Ezra Blue Duckwall

full of sunshine and love

Ezra Blue is a three-year-old boy who holds the sun in his heart and shares it with others through his smile.

In December 2020, Ezra started getting sick on a weekly basis. Over the next few months, Ezra's health quickly declined. By March, he was throwing up every single day, about five times a day. His balance and eyesight worsened to the point that he was falling over all the time, and his eyes crossed inward despite his glasses. His previous endoscopy showed that there was nothing wrong with his gastrointestinal tract.

At this point his mother, Hannah, began searching for answers outside of the doctor's office. Being a nursing student, she brought the issue up to one of her teachers, and that teacher suggested she have his brain checked out.

After asking for an MRI and being denied multiple times, Ezra's Grandmother, Deevonna, decided to just take him into the hospital. There, the doctor looked at Ezra and told them they needed to take him to Doernbecher Children's Hospital that night. So the family packed their bags and drove to Portland.

The doctors at Doernbecher did an MRI at about 11:30 pm that night, and none of them were prepared for what they found. A tumor, the size of an egg, was found in Ezra's brain. Two days later, Dr. Collins, the neurosurgeon, opened up the back of Ezra's head and removed as much of the tumor as she could. She sent a biopsy to the lab so that they could figure out whether the tumor was cancerous or not. Unfortunately, Dr. Collins was unable to remove all of the growth from Ezra's brain and also discovered that it had dropped down into his spinal cord.

On April 8th, 2021, Ezra was diagnosed with Medulloblastoma; a particularly aggressive and malignant cancer. Because of the spread to his spinal cord, Ezra's case was labeled "high-risk". The family stayed in the hospital for 31 days. During those thirty one days, Ezra had five surgeries and continually puzzled the doctors because his case was so confusing. During his hospitalization, he lost his ability to walk, swallow, move his left hand, talk, and empty his bladder. Eventually, he healed from the surgeries and was able to go home for a few days before readmitting to begin chemotherapy.

Currently, Ezra is halfway through his scheduled chemotherapy cycles. This requires many trips to Portland and depending on his blood counts, additional days spent in the hospital.

Soon they will do another MRI and a lumbar puncture to assess whether the cancer is responding to the treatment or not. He is slowly regaining his ability to walk and stand up. He is talking more than he ever has. His left hand is almost back to normal. He is still relearning how to use the toilet but can now empty his bladder without assistance. His strength is astounding.

Ezra loves to sing and dance. He frequently kisses his loved ones. He insists on holding his mom's hand until he falls asleep. His heart is so big.

Update: Ezra started round two of High-dose chemotherapy with stem cell transplant on Friday, Oct 1. His treatment was delayed because his kidney function and white blood counts were too low. Because of the delay, the oncology team strongly recommended that he begin this round immediately, which is why he is unable to be present. Because of his age, he will be inpatient at OHSU Doernbecher Children's Hospital for approximately 21 days. He will be too sick to go home.

The Barrett Family

Maleigha Barrett was born November 4, 2006, two weeks early, weighing 5lbs. 7.3oz. Soon after birth Maleigha did not pass the newborn hearing screening. She was rechecked and had the same result. The family was referred to Randall's Children's Hospital for further ABR testing and at 3 weeks of age Maleigha was diagnosed with bilateral hearing loss.

At her 3 month Well Child Check it seemed Maleigha wasn't meeting her milestones. The physician was wanting to hold off a few more weeks, explaining that some kids hit milestones at different times, but Kim's gut told her that something wasn't quite right. They were able to get Maleigha into a local pediatrician for a second opinion. Right away the doctor was concerned with her head circumference and the spasticity in her limbs. This combined with her hearing loss was even more concerning.

The Barrett's were referred to Emanuel Legacy. The couple had no idea Maleigha would be diagnosed with Quadriplegic Cerebral Palsy (CP). It was a day and diagnosis that forever changed their lives.

After the diagnosis of CP the Barrett's were thrown into a whirlwind of appointments with different specialists and multiple therapies each week. When Maleigha was 9 months old they met with a neurologist who scheduled her for an MRI. Maleigha was diagnosed with Pachygyria (Pachygyria is a developmental condition due to abnormal migration of neurons in the developing brain and nervous system). Between the medical needs and the appointments, the family decided it was better for Maleigha to have a parent at home and Kim has been home with her ever since.

At 18 months old, Maleigha had her first surgery to help with the hearing loss. Watching their young baby have brain surgery was extremely difficult. Maleigha's Cochlear implant surgery was successful in her right ear, but as the surgeons were moving forward they noticed abnormalities in the anatomy of her ear that the MRI and CT didn't show. Unfortunately the surgeons were unable to fully implant electrodes in her left cochlea; only 11 out of 22 electrodes were implanted. Maleigha was the first child in the state of Oregon to have bilateral implants placed.

In time, the implants healed and it was time to activate them for Maleigha to hear sound. Maleigha was terrified; a pouty lip was followed by tears of fear. The audiologist worked for several years programming her Cochlear implants until they were comfortable for Maleigha.

At age 6 Maleigha seemed to be responding to the sounds around her, but it wasn't until age 11 that she started getting excited to put the sound processors on every morning.

Maleigha's oral muscles weren't strong enough to eat solids safely. Every time Maleigha was sick she would end up hospitalized for IV fluids. At age 3 Maleigha was hospitalized with H1N1 and the doctors recommended a Gastrostomy tube be placed to help with hydration and nutrition to keep her out of the hospital. This was her second surgery. Not long after this, Maleigha started having seizures and as predicted, was put on several medications to treat them.

Thanks to her low weight Maleigha stayed in a car seat for quite some time and the family was able to load her wheelchair into the trunk of their van. Knowing this wouldn't last forever, the family made the decision to purchase a wheelchair accessible van from a local dealership. They put many miles on the van to and from Maleigha's appointments in Portland. Maleigha loves car rides!

Maleigha's third surgery was a bilateral hip surgery when she was 5 years old. The hip surgery left her in a Spica cast for 8 weeks, which put her in a partial laying down position. Even bringing her home would have been impossible without a wheelchair accessible van.

Sadly, this would not be Maleigha's last surgery. At age 11 Maleigha had spinal fusion surgery to correct a significant curve in her spine. In spite of all the surgeries and hurdles in her young life, Maleigha has kept a smile through it all. She has found joy in places one would not expect and that brings the family happiness. The spinal surgery with all the new rods and screws was by far the toughest as it is was no longer safe to move Maleigha the way they used to.

Their first accessible van lasted many years until the mileage was so high that the motor started going out. Kim's grandmother, who was also in a wheelchair passed away and left the Barrett's her wheelchair accessible van. It has was great for a few years, but unfortunately it also had high mileage and started costing the family a lot of extra money. On June 26th 2021 The Barrett's found themselves sitting on the side of the I-84 by Multnomah Falls without a transmission. It was a very scary experience. Thankfully that morning Maleigha wasn't stranded with them. They made the decision to use what was left in their savings to repair the transmission on the van. On Saturday July 31st, Kim was driving her mother's vehicle on her way to pick up the van when she was struck from behind at a stop light of 6th and Webber. Thankfully Maleigha and the family were not with her yet and no one was injured.

The Barrett's are now sharing Maleigha's van with her mother until her vehicle can be repaired. When Kim picked up the van from the transmission shop the mechanic informed her that the brakes and alignment needed to be done as well, which is on top of the ongoing electrical issues still needing repair. The old van has become an money pit.

Maleigha will be a Freshman in High School this year and plays on the Challenger Baseball League. She loves her Cartoons, Trolls Toys and anything that's fast and adventurous. Maleigha has the best smile and laugh you can imagine and especially lights up when she is around her family. Maleigha loves going for drives, especially since Covid required her to be isolated for her safety. The one thing Maleigha looks forward to is getting out of the house and going for a drive.

The Barrett's hope to take Maleigha to the Salem Carousel once the pandemic improves and she can get back to her regular scheduled therapies. Maleigha especially loves her pool therapy and she loves going to watch Makenzie play sports.

The Barrett's feel honored to have been chosen for this year's Pigbowl and are super appreciative of the local businesses, law enforcement, community, friends and family that are willing to help get Maleigha a reliable vehicle that will fit her needs.
